Case Studies

Breadwinners were looking to address the issues surrounding unemployment in disadvantaged communities and help people at the bottom of the labour market into self-employment. With an award from the People's Postcode Trust they provided training in how to run a business from managing finances to health and safety.

Shelter Cymru work for people in need of housing by providing free, independent, expert advice to overcome barriers which stand in the way of people in Wales having a decent, secure home. They received funding from People's Postcode Trust to introduce online housing advice videos for service users in order to reduce waiting time for frequent queries. By implementing this the group have increased their outreach and are serving more people at risk of poverty.

Southampton Action for Employment received funding to provide a training programme reaching out to people linked to substance misuse or petty crime. The course empowered people to make good choices for themselves, increasing their confidence and motivation, enabling them to take control over their lives, re-engage with their education, get into work and achieve their goals.
